Jorge Gallardo Ballart, Chairman of the Board of Directors, commented: "We regret Peter's decision to pursue new opportunities. On behalf of the Board of Directors and the employees of Almirall I want to thank Peter for the impressive transformation he spearheaded at Almirall over the last years. Core Ebitda will have quadrupled, we have now one of the strongest late stage pipelines in the medical dermatology space, and we have launched successfully Ilumetri and Skilarence in Europe and Seysara in the US. Last but not the least, the company has been strengthened by the recruitment and development of talented employees in various parts of the organisation. We wish Peter all the best in his new endeavours and have initiated the process to identify Peter's successor.

Peter Guenter, CEO, commented: "to leave Almirall has not been an easy decision because of the great momentum that we all have created at Almirall. The company is in a much better position than it was three years ago and is poised for significant expansion with a best in class portfolio in Medical Dermatology. I want to thank the Chairman and my colleagues at the Board of Directors for the confidence and support that I have always received over the last three years.

Most importantly, I am very grateful and proud of all my colleagues at ALMIRALL who have done such a wonderful job in transforming the company into a leader in the field of Medical Dermatology. Together we have forged a strong company helping patients suffering from severe dermatological conditions".
The process to identify his successor has been set in motion.
